1. Preamble: Mission Statement

In his 1978 inaugural homily as Pope, St. John Paul II challenged the faithful: “Brothers and sisters, do not be afraid to welcome Christ and accept his power.” The mission of the St. John Paul II Newman Center (“JP II Center”) accepts this challenge by evangelizing and offering Catholic formation to college students, especially to those enrolled at the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO). Our patron, St. John Paul II, had a special love for young adults and personally invested himself in their lives as a means of fostering in them a love of Christ and a life of committed discipleship. In 1993, at World Youth Day in Denver, CO, St. John Paul II reminded a generation of young people, many of whom have gone on to serve the Church today in the priesthood and in consecrated life, of Christ’s declaration: “I came so that they might have life and have it more abundantly” (John 10:10b). The JP II Center strives to call young people to live the abundant life embodied by our late, beloved Pontiff, by offering and promoting what was vital to him:

- a personal relationship with Christ leading to discipleship;
- a love of the sacraments as privileged ways to encounter God;
- the pursuit of authentic love as the foundation of relationships and community life;
- a solid catechetical formation flowing from Sacred Scripture and Sacred Tradition;
- a deep devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary and St. Joseph, her spouse;
- a life of personal, contemplative prayer from which flows the discernment of one’s vocation, apostolic action and service to the poor;
- an appreciation of music, the arts, and nature that opens us in wonder to the beauty of God.

Inspired by the witness of St. John Paul II, we are called to be bold, to be faithful, and to be not afraid.

2. Sources of Policies

The Catholic Church has the care of souls for those in the JP II Center Community. As a ministry of the Catholic Church, the JP II Center accepts the Church’s doctrinal and legislative documents as primary guides for its own policies, practices, rules and norms of behavior. The JP II Center will uphold the teachings and practices of the Catholic Church and will not act on or promote anything contrary to Sacred Scripture, Apostolic Tradition, or the discipline of the Catholic Church. Like any Church effort, our ministry depends on the good will, time, talent and treasure of members, leaders, volunteers and supporters.

The specific policies of this handbook are inspired by the following sources:

- The dignity of the human person as created in the image of God;
- The Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes;

- Natural law;
- The cardinal and theological virtues;
- The teachings and disciplines of the Catholic Church; and
- Applicable norms of civil law.

3. Student Conduct Expectations

Within the traditions of its mission and Catholic heritage, the JPPII Center expects its students to develop a high standard of behavior and personal values. Among these expectations are:

- Respect for self and the rights and human dignity of others, especially in the conduct of relationships;
- Respect for the rights and needs of the JPPII Center community to develop and maintain an atmosphere conducive to academic study and personal development;
- Respect for honesty, freedom of expression, and open inquiry;
- Tolerance for the different backgrounds, religious traditions, personalities and beliefs of the students, faculty, and staff who make up the JPPII Center community;
- A willingness to assist others in need of support, guidance or friendship;
- Respect for federal, state, and local laws and ordinances; and
- Respect for the authorities, policies, procedures and regulations established by the JPPII Center for the orderly administration of its activities and the welfare of the members of its community.

4. Code of Conduct

The Church teaches: “A virtue is a habitual and firm disposition to do the good. It allows the person not only to perform good acts, but to give the best of himself. The virtuous person tends toward the good with all his sensory and spiritual powers; he pursues the good and chooses it in concrete actions” (Catechism of the Catholic Church 1803).

Virtues are habits, but not just habits. They are habits that help us to choose and do the good. This is often difficult. But over time, as these virtues are built up, we are able to choose the good consistently, with joy and with ease. If we want to be great witnesses and lead through our character, virtue is an absolute must. Lots of people can talk about what they value, but the actions of virtues speak louder than words.

In the JPPII Center community, we strive to provide an environment that models and encourages a life in the pursuit of virtues, especially chastity (see section 5. A.-B.), sobriety (see section 5. C.-D.) and personal excellence. To that end, we also realize that many will come to our doors striving after mastery in these areas, but who do not practice virtue to the fullest. As St. John Paul II taught us, “Who can say that he is free from sin and does not need God’s mercy? As people of this restless time of ours, wavering between the emptiness of self-exaltation and the humiliation of despair, we have a greater need than ever for a regenerating experience of mercy" (Regina Caeli Message, April 10, 1994). Therefore, by offering instruction in the Christian life and administering grace through the sacraments, we look forward to accompanying college students as they encounter Our Lord through their struggles with sin and victories over them. This is part of the growth in Christian virtue.

At the same time, a student residing or participating in activities at the JPPII Center assumes an obligation to conduct himself or herself in a manner compatible with the JPPII Center's mission and consistent with Catholic moral teaching. Some conduct, whether on or off JPPII Center property, is so serious that it may affect the student's suitability as a member of the JPPII Center. Conduct which may result in discipline, including fines, suspension and/or eviction from the JPPII Center, includes, but is not limited to the following:

- Theft, vandalism, dishonesty, or knowingly furnishing false information to the JPPII Center.
- Forgery, alteration, or misuse of official JPPII Center documents, records or identification (includes ID key cards), tampering with computer information that invades the privacy of others, and irresponsible use of resources.
- Physical, verbal or written harassment or abuse of another person; as well as threatening or attempting to inflict personal injury or creating a substantial risk of such injury to another person.
- The illicit use of controlled substances.
- Disorderly conduct or lewd, indecent or obscene conduct.
- Possession of pornographic materials, including viewing pornography on a computer at the JPPII Center.
- Inappropriate behavior, on or off the JPPII Center premises, that is inconsistent with the mission and purpose of the JPPII Center or that may reflect adversely on the JPPII Center.
- Refusal to comply with directives of JPPII Center officials acting in the proper performance of their duties.

5. Student Life Policies

Note: The policies contained in sections 5-7 apply especially to students residing in Newman Hall, the residential or housing portion of the JPPII Newman Center facility. Depending on context, some apply to all JPPII students.

A. Visitation Policy

Christ calls all persons to chastity for the good of friendship and community. The virtue of chastity reserves genital sexual activity for expression only in a monogamous heterosexual relationship of lasting fidelity within marriage.

The Church teaches:

“Chastity means the successful integration of sexuality within the person and thus the inner union of man in his bodily and spiritual being. Sexuality, in which man’s belonging to the bodily and biological world is expressed, becomes personal and truly human when it is integrated into the relationship of one person to another, in the complete and lifelong mutual gift of a man and a woman.

The virtue of chastity therefore involves the integrity of person and the integrality of the gift.

The chaste person maintains the integrity of the powers of life and love placed within him. This integrity ensures the unity of the person; it is opposed to any behavior that would impair it. It tolerates neither a double life nor duplicity in speech” (Catechism of the Catholic Church 2237-2238).

In order to help foster the virtue of chastity, the JPII Center will segregate its residents based upon gender; men will live on floors 1 and 3 and women will live on floors 2 and 4. Further, the JPII Center has set hours during which students may invite visitors of the opposite sex to the common areas of their apartment. Visitation hours play a positive role in the creation of a community spirit among students by encouraging mutual respect for the dignity and vocation of each person. Further, the hours foster the residential mission by honoring a student's right to private time, study, and sleep. Hours help roommates set boundaries and avoid conflict. Friendships are fostered between members of the residential community and they are empowered to fulfill their individual needs and interests. Deep friendships between men and women are encouraged, while at the same time, the dignity of their differences are respected. The visitation policy is crafted to encourage chastity in relationships and growth in Christian virtue.

The right of the roommate wanting privacy should always prevail over the roommate wanting a visitor (i.e. someone not living in that unit), though both parties' rights should be considered.

Permitted visitation hours of members of the opposite sex are as follows:

Student apartment common areas (i.e. kitchen/living room)*
and second thru fourth floor lounges

Sunday-Thursday	11:00 a.m. – 12:00 am.
Friday-Saturday	11:00 a.m. – 1:00 a.m.

First floor common areas

Daily	24-hour visitation

Failure to follow visitation policies may result in disciplinary action, including community service, fines, disciplinary probation, suspension or loss of visitation for one or more semesters, or eviction from the JPII Center. Special requirements such as alcohol and/or other drug education or sessions with the counseling center or other such services may be added to the consequences when there are other circumstances involved in the violation. Each situation is reviewed separately, as variables may exist which may change consequences.

* Visitation by members of the opposite sex and/or one’s significant other in a resident’s bedroom within an apartment is never allowed.

While there is no set curfew for residents to return to the residence hall or their apartments/private rooms at night, we encourage residents to be attentive to the need for proper rest for the sake of one's health, happiness, and well-being, and in order to better fulfill one's obligations as a student.

B. Visitors and Overnight Guests

The JPii Center is private property. Presence at the JPii Center is at the pleasure of the JPii Center. It is the JPii Center's expectation that visitors and overnight guests will abide by its rules and local, state, and federal law. Hosts will be accountable for the safety and actions of their visitors and overnight guests. The JPii Center reserves the right to ask visitors and overnight guests unable to respect its policies to leave its property. Visitors and overnight guests must adhere to the visitation policy noted in section 5.A.

A visitor is a person who is not a current Newman Hall resident, but who is visiting a resident or a staff member during regular visiting hours (see section 5.A). The visitor may not be in the student residence portion of the building (regardless of floor/gender) after visitation hours have ended. A guest who stays past visitation will be considered an overnight guest (see below) and permission is required.

An overnight guest is a person who is not a current Newman Hall resident, but who is being hosted by a resident or staff member and is staying beyond visitation hours. An overnight guest's host can be a resident or a member of the staff. Residents who are on probation may not be hosts for the JPii Center. A resident or staff member must obtain permission from the resident manager to host an overnight guest and fill out the required form to note the name, contact information, etc. of the guest. The form can be found online at www.JPiiOmaha.org (under student requests) and should be filled out 48 hours before the guest arrives. The host is responsible for his/her guest. Overnight guests are not allowed to stay when the hosts they are visiting are not also present. Guests will only be allowed to stay overnight in student rooms with permission of both the resident manager and the other students in the apartment. Overnight guests must check in at the front desk upon their arrival. The maximum number of nights a guest may stay is three nights. Hosts who do not obtain permission from the resident manager for their guest to stay overnight will be charged $25 for each night their guest stays, and may face additional discipline.

Prospective student residents may be overnight guests with the permission of the Resident Manager. If they are minors, they are not to sleep in an individual bedroom (unless it is vacant) but rather in the living room area of the apartment.

C. Alcohol Policy

“Temperance is the moral virtue that moderates the attraction of pleasures and provides balance in the use of created goods. It ensures the will’s mastery over instincts and keeps desires within the limits of what is honorable. The temperate person directs the sensitive appetites toward what is good and maintains a healthy discretion. . . We ought ‘to live sober, upright, and godly lives in this world’ (Titus 2:12)” (Catechism of the Catholic Church 1809).

Further, the JPii Center follows city and state regulations regarding the use of alcoholic beverages and expects its residents and guests to abide by them. These are summarized here:

https://alcoholpolicy.niaaa.nih.gov/APIS_State_Profile.html?state=NE. The privilege of student use of alcohol in the residence hall should operate in a manner that allows students a real freedom of choice as to whether to drink or not.

This policy does not sanction cocktail or heavy drinking parties of any kind in residents' rooms, but is intended to allow moderate drinking by residents and guests, who are age 21 or older, in a controlled environment and in a social setting. We understand that on a college campus, alcohol misuse has become the standard and the rule. We wish to create a culture in which alcohol use is not only legal, but moderate.

All members of the JPii Center community are to conduct themselves in a manner reflecting credit on themselves and the JPii Center, and to share responsibility for the functioning of this policy. The provisions of this policy are as follows:

1. Permission to host a private party for a special occasion in a common area or hall lounge where alcohol is served may be obtained from the Resident Manager. The request must be made online at www.JPiiOmaha.org (under student requests) at least 48 hours ahead of time during normal office hours. Students who obtain permission must abide by the following standards:
 - a. A designated person(s) will be responsible for serving the alcoholic drinks, which will be limited to beer, wine, or “coolers.” Hard liquor or mixed drinks will not be permitted.
 - b. A system must be in place where the age of the person requesting a beverage is checked; only those age 21 or older will be served.
 - c. A maximum of two alcoholic drinks will be served to each patron of age.
 - d. Drinks are not to be sold.
 - e. Nonalcoholic drinks must be provided as an alternative for those who choose not to drink alcohol or for those who - have already consumed the maximum amount of alcohol.

- f. All alcohol must be packaged and unopened when brought onto the JPPI Center.
2. Alcohol is also permitted in the common spaces of those residents who live in a unit where all resident members are age 21 or older. Permission is contingent on all resident members of such apartments signing an agreement stating that they will abide by the rules associated with drinking alcohol in the building, including those standards listed above. Additionally, in such apartments, the unit door must be left open to the hallway while alcoholic drinks are being consumed.
 3. Hard liquor is not allowed at the JPPI Center.
 4. Intimidation or harassment of a resident assistant or JPPI Center official in connection with problems due to drinking, or the refusal to follow their directives, may result in immediate suspension or eviction from the JPPI Center.
 5. All residents assigned to an apartment are responsible for compliance with this policy in their apartment.
 6. At no point in time should there be more than 12 people total in a unit.
 7. Under no circumstances should a student drink alcoholic beverages alone.

Consequences— If residents are found to be engaged in illegal activity (i.e. underage drinking), the notification of UNO Security and/or the Omaha Police Department will always take place and can result in criminal charges. Other consequences include having a mandatory meeting with the Resident Manager. Specific determination of consequences in each case will be made by the Resident Manager of the JPPI Center, up to and including fines, suspension or eviction from the JPPI Center.

D. Substance & Unlawful Drug Policy

Both alcohol abuse and drug abuse are harmful to individuals and their relationships with others. Substance abuse also leads to lessened study/work productivity, increased absenteeism and physiological illness, and impaired study/work relationships.

The illicit use of controlled substances violates both federal and state laws and most frequently leads to diminished physiological processes, emotional imbalance, and/or withdrawal from others. At the JPPI Center, it is important to provide an environment that promotes physical and psychological health, as well as aiding individuals in making sound life choices.

Another essential component to such an atmosphere is the development of consistent practices that offer assistance to those in need and safety to others around the person in need—all within a context of dignity and respect for all those involved. It is the intent of this policy statement to address the problems of controlled substance abuse within the framework provided by these broad goals.

With this in mind, the JPPI Center supports the Drug Free Workplace (PL 100-690) and Drug Free Schools and Communities (PL101-226) Acts. The specific policy below prohibits the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on JPPI Center property or as a part of JPPI Center-sanctioned activities.

Objectives—The objectives of this policy are as follows:

1. To prevent, as much as possible, controlled substance abusers from hurting themselves or others.
2. To prevent, as much as possible, illicit controlled substance usage from interfering with the user achieving his/her goals in attending college.
3. To aid students and others in making personal choices consistent with their personal goals and the mission of the JPPI Center.
4. To encourage any needed individual into controlled substance abuse treatment programs, and to assist however possible in a student or employee's treatment progress.

Implementation—Violations of the following behaviors would specifically violate the JPPI Center drug policy:

1. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, and dispensation of controlled substances.
2. The possession or use of controlled substances without a physician's prescription.
3. Possession or use of drug paraphernalia.

Consequences—Specific determination of consequences in each case will be made by the Resident Manager of the JPPI Center, up to and including suspension or eviction from the JPPI Center.

6. Residence Hall—Specific Requirements

Since the JPii Center’s primary mission is to evangelize and offer Catholic formation to college students, it will expect and require individuals who have been accepted for student housing at the JPii Center to do the following:

- As members of the JPii Center, pay an annual $75.00 membership fee to help fund JPii Center activities [the housing application fee will be converted to this membership fee for the first year of residence].
- To participate in at least one JPii Center-sponsored activity per semester. These may include both religious and community service activities.
- When in Omaha and not working, attend a regularly-scheduled meal with the opening prayer with other student residents and guests in the Karol’s Commons. The focus of this meal and prayer is to build community.

7. Residence Hall—General Policies and Procedures

Adhesives & Wall Attachments

The use of contact paper, duct tape, packing tape, non-removable self-adhesives, nails, push pins, screws, and other items that may permanently damage the walls or furnishings in the residence hall is prohibited. 3M’s “Command Strip” adhesive products (www.command.com) have been shown to cause the least amount of damage to most walls when directions are followed. Ask housing staff about the availability of this product to purchase in-house. White sticky tack is also a product that leaves minimal damage. All items are hung at your own risk. Any damages caused by hanging items on the walls will be charged to students.

Appliances

Apartments are furnished with appliances suitable for cooking in the kitchen area (refrigerator/freezer, stove/oven range, microwave, and dishwasher). If one of the furnished appliances is in need of maintenance or repair, please fill out the online form at www.JPiiOmaha.org (under student requests). The following appliances are NOT permitted in student bedroom or bathroom portions of the apartment: hot plates, halogen lights, grills, electric skillets, toaster ovens, propane appliances, sun lamps, electric heaters, and refrigerators larger than 4 cubic ft.

The following appliances ARE permitted in student bedroom and bathroom portion of the apartment: stereos, televisions, electric razors, fans, heating pads, computers, electric blankets, and refrigerators less than 4 cubic ft.

Beds (Size is Twin XL)

Bed frames and mattresses are provided and are expected to be used and not exchanged for outside beds or furniture.

Bicycles

The JPII Center has an outdoor bicycle rack where students may store their bicycles. Bicycles are not allowed to be stored in student apartments. However, all student property (including bicycles) must be removed from the residence hall at the end of the lease term, unless alternate arrangements have been made with the Resident Manager. In the winter, students may store their bicycles in the basement of the Newman Center if they are approved through the Resident Manager. Per recommendation of UNO Security, students should use "U-Bolt" locks to secure their bikes. Students should register their bike with the office manager so UNO security can aid in keeping students' bikes safe.

Bulletin Boards:

1. All postings must be approved by a member of the housing staff.
2. All posted items must include:
 - the name of the sponsoring group or individual, and
 - the date of posting. Items not so marked will be removed.
3. It is the responsibility of the sponsoring group or individual to remove posted materials immediately after the event has occurred or one week following the posting date on the item.
4. Good judgment is expected. Postings which are contrary to the laws and doctrines of the Catholic Church will not be allowed.
5. No derogatory remarks, degrading stereotypes or obscene language will be allowed.
6. Signs posted to advertise social events should be in good taste and NOT include in an explicit or implicit manner the presence of alcoholic beverages at the event.
7. No more than one like poster per board may be displayed.
8. To post an announcement on the electronic signage at the entrance to the JPII Center and at the oratory, please see the office manager.

Cable TV / Cable Splicing

Cable TV splicing in student housing is prohibited, as it constitutes a violation of intellectual property rights and other laws. Please also take care of the cable box, remote, etc. that are provided. Tampering or any missing parts will result in a fine. If you will not be using the cable box / remote supplied to the apartment, please turn them in to housing staff for safe storage for future residents.

Campus Attire

The JPPII Center has no specific regulations concerning proper campus attire, except that sunbathing in swimsuits of any kind is not permitted on the grounds of JPPII Center. As a general guide, students should keep in mind that individually they represent the student body of the JPPII Center. A major part of one's education is developing and increasing one's awareness and concern for others by dressing in a manner that is in accord with good taste and in accord with the wishes of those who are sponsors of a given event or in a position of authority in a given situation.

Candles/Chemicals/Open Flames

All explosive or combustible materials and liquids are prohibited at the JPPII Center, except those used in the context of the sacred liturgy. Candles and all open flame devices are strictly prohibited in student housing. The indoor/outdoor fireplace in the Holy Family Room and Mary's Courtyard may be used in accord with its own instructions. Likewise, the grill in the courtyard may be reserved and used by students, after a brief orientation. Please see the office manager for more information.

Do not smoke in any part of the building, overload electrical outlets, take chemicals or highly flammable material into your room, or use open coil heaters or hotplates. Chemicals or highly flammable material of any description, including paint, anti-freeze or fuel shall not be brought into student housing at any time. Please take every precaution to prevent fires and protect the lives of all residents.

Damage to JPPII Center / Property Policy

All residents are responsible for keeping all JPPII Center-owned property and equipment in good condition. Damaging, defacing, or vandalizing JPPII Center property will not be tolerated. Residents will be held responsible for all breakage and damage that is beyond the expected normal wear of furnishings. Charges are determined by repair and replacement costs. Damage student rooms and furnishings will be assessed to the occupants. If something in a student room needs repair, please report the damage at www.JPPIIOmaha.org under "student requests" and repairs will be made.

JPPII Center assumes no responsibility for losses, damages, or injuries of any sort occurring to persons or property in student housing by any cause whatsoever. Residents are encouraged to carry personal property and liability insurance or confirm that their parents' home insurance policy covers their possessions should anything be damaged or stolen. Doors should remain locked when residents are out of their rooms. If there is theft, it should be reported to the resident assistant and to the police. It is advisable to record serial numbers of all valuables.

Damaging or tampering with safety equipment such as fire extinguishers and hoses, smoke alarms, signage and lights, and other such equipment, seriously endangers the lives and health of residents. Disciplinary measures in keeping with the gravity of such offenses will be taken, including the possibility of a fine, suspension, or eviction from the JPII Center.

Defacing Doors, Walls, Bulletin Boards

The act of defacing doors, walls, or bulletin boards is strictly prohibited. Any student caught engaging in this activity will face disciplinary action and may be required to pay replacement costs if necessary.

Family Housing

The JPII Center does not have housing for married couples or children of residents.

Fire Alarms

Proper use and response to fire alarms is required. Anyone who falsely or negligently activates fire safety equipment will face disciplinary action. Additionally, any student who fails to respond to any fire alarm, whether false or actual, will face disciplinary action.

Firearms, Explosives, Dangerous Materials

Firearms, bows and arrows, knives longer than 3" (and other than ordinary kitchen utensils), sling shots, dart boards, pneumatic or spring powered weapons, nunchuks, other weapons, fireworks, ammunition, or explosives may not be brought to the JPII Center. In short, all weapons, explosives, and dangerous materials are not allowed at the JPII Center. A violation of this policy is considered a serious matter and will result in discipline, up to and including suspension or eviction.

Fire Evacuation Procedure

Survival is the top priority in the event of a fire. If there is a fire, the alarm systems in the JPII Center will automatically call the Omaha Fire Department. When you hear a fire alarm, immediately exit the building, using the following steps:

1. FEEL THE DOOR HANDLE.
If it's hot, don't open the door; go to a window and call for help.
If it's cool, open the door cautiously and check for smoke and fire.

2. EXIT THE ROOM CRAWLING ON THE FLOOR.
Avoid smoke and toxic chemicals in the air above.
3. CLOSE THE ROOM AND STAIRWAY DOORS BEHIND YOU.
Keeps the fire from spreading by closing doors.
4. GET OUT OF BUILDING BEFORE PHONING FOR HELP.
Your survival comes first.
5. PULL THE FIRE ALARM ON YOUR WAY OUT.
Proceed to the nearest exit.
6. DON'T WAIT FOR PEOPLE OR GET YOUR BELONGINGS.
Knock on doors and yell "FIRE" as you leave.
7. IF YOU CAN'T GET OUT, GET SOMEONE'S ATTENTION
Stay low, yell and scream, hang a sheet from the window if possible.

The JPPII Center meets OSHA fire-safety requirements. Safety lighting, smoke alarms, and multi-purpose dry chemical extinguishers are located throughout the Center. Be sure you are aware of the nearest extinguisher; these should be used to exit the hall and not to fight a fire.

Discharging or tampering with fire equipment is an act of vandalism that can result in the inadequate protection of the lives, safety, and property of a JPPII Center's residents. The Omaha Fire Department, the Federal Government, and OSHA consider tampering with this equipment a serious matter. The JPPII Center also considers vandalism of safety equipment (including fire extinguishers, smoke alarms, fire alarms, signs, and emergency lighting, etc.) a serious matter. Consequences may include a fine, suspension, or eviction from the JPPII Center.

HIV Policy

The JPPII Center follows the recommendations of the Center for Disease Control, United States Public Health Service, and the American College Health Association. The medical opinion of these sources supports the stance that there is no risk of acquiring HIV by ordinary social or occupational contact, such as working with, sitting near or living in the same residence, or sharing bathroom facilities with an HIV infected individual. No effort will be taken by the JPPII Center to determine the HIV status of any applicant. The student assumes responsibility of exposure by engaging in risky behaviors regarding sexual relationships, drugs and alcohol.

Each case of HIV/AIDS will be evaluated on an individual basis, when the student is known to be infected with the virus. The Resident Manager will determine if and when the student should leave student housing in order to receive more appropriate care. At all times the confidentiality of the resident's health status will be protected. The JPII Center values and respects the dignity of each individual.

Housekeeping

The JPII Center employs student janitors who clean common and public areas. It is the responsibility of the residents to keep their rooms clean. Residents are responsible for putting their trash in bags in the designated rubbish room on each floor. Minimal cleaning equipment will be made available to the residents; please contact your resident assistant to check out vacuums and mops. Students will be subject to random health and safety checks throughout the year and a standard will be enforced.

Housing Deposit Policy

All students are required to pay a $200 housing deposit. The housing deposit is retained until the end of the lease term. Any assessment for damages will be charged directly to the student's account and deducted from the deposit. Deposits are assumed by the JPII Center if the resident is evicted.

Inappropriate Activities

Activities such as rollerblading, skateboarding, water fights, bike riding, shooting paint guns, throwing frisbees, playing outdoor games, throwing, bouncing, or kicking balls, playing golf or basketball, etc. are not permitted inside student housing. Note: Special care should be taken when engaging in these kinds of activities when outside / adjacent to the buildings.

Keys

Each resident is furnished a bedroom key and apartment door access on his/her ID card. Every resident is urged to keep his/her door locked at all times for security reasons. There is no deposit required for the keys. However, there is a $50 charge for lost or non-returned keys (i.e. bedroom and mailbox keys). Lost keys should be reported to the resident assistant. Lost JPII Center keycards needing replacement will result in a $10 fine. If a student is locked out of his/her room, contact the resident assistant on call. Excessive lockouts will result in a $25 fine.

Lounge Furniture

Lounge furniture is intended for use by all students of student housing. This furniture is not to be in student rooms or suites. If lounge furniture is found in individual student rooms, disciplinary action may result. Likewise, furniture that is intended for individual apartments/rooms should remain there, and not be put in the hallway or lounges. If furniture is missing or broken, the residents will be held accountable for the repair or replacement of furniture.

Lofts/Bunks

Only approved loft kits are permitted in student housing. A limited number of lofting kits are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. Please see the Resident Manager for more information.

Maintenance Problems

If you discover a maintenance problem, please report it by utilizing the online form at www.JPiiOmaha.org (under student requests).

Mistreatment of Staff

All attempts to attack a staff member and all instances of deliberate antagonistic behavior towards or assault of staff members will not be tolerated. Any instances of such behavior will result in immediate disciplinary action. All students and guests are expected to cooperate with any staff member's reasonable request.

Pets

Other than fish, pets are not allowed in student housing. Fish tanks must be no larger than 5 gallons.

Quiet Hours

Students are expected to maintain a courteous environment at all times, both in the JPii Center and in the courtyard. Speakers may not be placed in windows. Quiet hours begin 1 hour before the end of visitation hours (see p. 4) and end at 10 am. During Quiet hours, residents are asked to speak softly and play radios, stereos, instruments and TV sets softly.

Removal of Belongings

Residents are to remove all their belongings from student housing when they terminate their residency. A charge will be made for personal belongings or trash left in the room. If a student is expelled from student housing, he/she must move out of the room within 24 hours. Items left after eviction will be properly disposed.

Roof/Ledge

Students are prohibited from roofs and window ledges at all times, except for the designated rooftop decks (south side of floor 4 and the west side of floors 2-4).

Room Assignment Policy

Room sign-ups take place beginning in the spring semester and over the summer. JPii Center reserves the right to reassign students to another unit when deemed necessary for the benefit of the individual student or group of students.

Room Changes

Room changes are generally not allowed during the semester unless there is an immediate danger or safety concern to a student. If a roommate conflict arises, the residents are required to go through a mediation process with his or her resident assistant. After the roommate mediation, the Resident Manager will decide if a room change is appropriate. Making room changes without receiving proper approval will result in disciplinary action.

Room Inspection

JPII Center staff are authorized to enter rooms when they suspect there is evidence of a violation of JPII Center regulations or for the purpose of maintenance and emergencies.

Health and safety inspections will be scheduled throughout the year. Inspections will occur with and without warning. An inspection will be held each vacation period. Rooms will be inspected for cleanliness and safety hazards. These inspections would not be considered a room search. JPII Center reserves the right to enter rooms to inspect the furniture and equipment or to perform maintenance work.

The health and safety inspection will be looking for standards such as: trash properly disposed; no dirty dishes; open food containers or excessive crumbs on the floors or counters; shower clean and drain not clogged; toilet clean and functioning; bathroom space clean and sanitized; and floors in all spaces clear of clothing or other belongings.

If there is reason to believe that a student has violated JPII Center regulations, JPII Center reserves the right to search the room and have the student's possessions inspected at the direction of the resident assistant or Resident Manager.

Smoking & Tobacco Product Use

Smoking and use of tobacco products (including vapes and e-cigarettes) on JPII Center premises is limited to the designated outdoor area only. Hookahs are not permitted. Smoking is strictly prohibited in the residence hall, indoor common areas, and outdoor decks. Violations of this policy will result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or eviction.

Tornado Evacuation Procedure

Civil Defense and tornado warning information is available during registration in student housing and is available from the resident assistant. Residents should be aware of what the local siren means. If a warning siren sounds, remain calm, stay inside, and take cover in the lowest possible area inside the building. Remember to stay away from windows and glass. If you are above ground, get next to an interior wall. Mattresses can be used as protection when you are above ground. If you are below ground, get next to an exterior wall. Residents should go to the suggested places for shelter. The best and safest place is the basement on the north end of the building.

Trash

All students are expected to take responsibility for the proper disposal of their trash. Designated rubbish rooms are located on floors 2-4 and a larger rubbish room is located on the south end of the first floor (for use by all residents during visitation hours). Students should bag their trash and recycling from their apartment and take it to their floor's rubbish room. Trash and recycling receptacles are also provided in the commons areas. Dumping or leaving trash in any area other than proper receptacles and rubbish rooms will not be tolerated. Failure to adhere to this policy may result in a fine.

Windows, Screens, and Blinds

Windows, screens, and blinds may not be removed or tampered with. A maintenance or replacement fee will be assessed for anyone tampering with them and disciplinary action may result. Nothing may be thrown out of windows, and residents should not exit through windows.

8. General Non-Discrimination and Harassment Policy and Procedures

JPII Center will not tolerate any form of discrimination or harassment. Discrimination or harassment is strictly prohibited on JPII Center property, in all programs and activities, and at JPII Center-sponsored events and activities, regardless of whether or not the event takes place on JPII Center property.

JPII Center takes all claims of harassment very seriously. Students engaging in such acts will be subject to discipline as outlined below. Regarding other persons, JPII Center will take action appropriate and necessary to prevent recurrence, which may include banning such persons from the JPII Center and/or terminating their employment.

Other Inappropriate Conduct:

Conduct that does not constitute prohibited discrimination or harassment under the law or under any of the JPII Center's policies still may be inappropriate for the JPII Center community. Even if the JPII Center determines an individual's behavior does not rise to the level of prohibited discrimination or harassment under this policy, it may impose appropriate disciplinary action. As a general rule, disciplinary action will be imposed under this paragraph if the JPII Center believes the behavior or conduct was inappropriate, unprofessional, objectionable, inconsistent with reasonable rules of conduct, or inconsistent with the laws and doctrines of the Roman Catholic Church.

Reporting a Complaint:

A resident or other student who has a question, concern or complaint of discrimination or harassment should bring the matter to the attention of the Resident Manager. If the question, concern or complaint involves the resident manager, or if the student is not comfortable discussing the matter with the Resident Manager, the student may bring the matter to the immediate attention of the Director of the JPPII Center.

Any non-resident student who has a question, concern or complaint of discrimination or harassment is encouraged to bring the matter to the attention of the resident manager, or, if applicable, to the Director of the JPPII Center.

Investigation:

All reports of inappropriate conduct will be promptly and thoroughly investigated, and the JPPII Center will act to ensure that any improper conduct ceases immediately and corrective action is taken to prevent a recurrence. Any student who violates this policy will be subject to the full range of disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or eviction from the JPPII Center. Any JPPII Center staff member who violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination. The JPPII Center will inform the complaining student of the resolution of the complaint as appropriate.

No Retaliation:

JPPII Center prohibits retaliation against anyone who reports or assists in making a good faith complaint of prohibited harassment or discrimination and/or who cooperates in any harassment or discrimination investigation. Prohibited retaliation may include, but is not limited to, intimidation, threats, coercion, or discrimination against any such individual. If the JPPII Center determines that a student has violated this policy, appropriate disciplinary action will be taken against the student, up to and including suspension or eviction. If the JPPII Center determines that a staff member has violated this policy, appropriate disciplinary actions will be taken against the staffmember, up to and including termination.

Limitations:

Nothing in this policy shall be construed as creating a private cause of action. Neither the proscriptions of, nor actions taken under this policy shall on that basis prevent JPPII Center from fully arguing for or against the existence of any fact and the scope or meaning of any law in any forum.
